
Adab Al Zifaf Pdf 18

17 Sunan ibn Majah, volume 3, book 9, hadith number 1863, page n Abu Yala and verified to be authentic by al-Albani (adab uz-Zifaf p. 132), reported by Abu Dawood, at-Tirmidhi, an-Nasa'i, al-Bayhaqi, Ahmad and at-Tabarani, alma'minu and others. Al-Munziri gives a reliable report about this in Al-Hakim's Garden, Volume 6 , page 90. There is a certain meaning in this hadith when it comes to worship and refraining from touching. Al-Mu'minin clarifies: there is worship and exaltation of people to Allah by giving them gifts so that they respond with gratitude. Ibn Hajar al-Asqalani in "Jami'", No. 3, pages 265 and 266 says: "Ali ibn Abu Talib, may Allah be pleased with him, said:" I offered many prayers for people, but only one for me is the smallest in the name of My Prophet, may Allah bless him and grant him peace, and that he remember Me in his prayers." The meaning of this hadeeth is that the Prophet (peace and blessings be upon him) told us this so that we would not lose our love for him, and also that we would glorify him, praising his deeds, and fulfill his good deed . And also in the sense that we should honor Allah by remembering Him and performing worship in His honor. Sometimes people compare the words of a prophet with love for a prophet. We can say that the first symbolic meaning of the words of the prophet is revealed in the meaning of love. However, in some cases, the use of the same word in completely different meanings is, as it were, dual. This becomes obvious when you see that a person puts several meanings in a different order and meaning. In the above meaning, the words Allahu appear before us as ideal and perfect, exalted and great, perfect and exalted, beautiful and bestowing. Here it becomes even more fair. "Meanwhile, Ibn Umar narrated that Muhammad, may God bless him and bring
