Speaking on the impact of HyperMotion Technology in FIFA, Head of FIFA for SIE Worldwide Studios Rui Casais states: "FIFA has always been a game that is heavily reliant on real-life attributes, from players' movements and tactics, and we wanted to create an even better experience for our players." "FIFA 22 is a landmark year for the series and with the inclusion of HyperMotion Technology, we're set to deliver some of the biggest gameplay innovations in the history of the series. We're on the cusp of even greater opportunities and improvements for all gamers, and look forward to sharing these with you all soon," added Casais. The first preview of gameplay for HyperMotion Technology has been showcased in the introductory trailer published by SIE WWS today which you can watch here: With the recently released trailer for the official pre-match presentation of the 22nd instalment of the series, reveal footage was shown depicting the different features of FIFA 22, including returning stars as well as the introduction of HyperMotion Technology. Watch it here: Read a full translation of the pre-match trailer here: A slightly different look was given to the gameplay mode that will be available for the first time to the players and the world via FIFA Ultimate Team (FUT) this year. The trailer showcased highlights of the game mode and had the main three "Mesut Ozil" players for the highest rated team in FUT having previously featured in the Gamescom 2015 trailer. Fans who pre-order Ultimate Team on PlayStation Store this week will get access to the EA SPORTS Football Club in-game experience and be able to choose from one of four custom kits or six FUT Player Shape cards for Ozil, his Arsenal team-mate Granit Xhaka, Tottenham Hotspur's Son Heung-min, Chelsea's Eden Hazard, Barcelona's Lionel Messi or Real Madrid's Luka Modric. Take your favourite clubs and players from across the world, combine them into packs and use FIFA Ultimate Team to build your dream team. Every time you play, your team can improve as you add new players to your squad. If you're lucky enough to be playing in an exciting match, that's when you'll get the best results, so jump in any time. The new Journey: Champions introduces a brand new mode to FIFA Ultimate Team that allows you to travel throughout history and throughout the globe. With unmatched authenticity, you'll play as legends from the original Dream Team, including Pele, Franco Baresi, Zinedine Zidane, and many more. Play With AI - Skipper your best players into 2 vs. 2 matches with a friend online or in Local Co-op Mode. Choose your formation, style and tactics from a total of 30 teams to challenge the friend. Or start your own online league and compete against other friends or teams in a tournament. PROS What an incredible game it is the truest soccer football experience you will find on a device. It is easy to get into and really fun. You have to do a lot of things to play and very well. Perfect for the beginner or "full-casual" gamers. It has a bad choice of music and some poor gameplay decisions but that will not deter those in search of a better simulation. The best soccer game I have played on a mobile device. There is a live demo to play as well. CONS The layout of the game seems a little weird. In a soccer video game this should be your team which for me is a very big deal but rather it seems there is only the home team and therefor the away team gets ignored. Overall I can recommend you to give this game a try if you have ever wanted to play a soccer game on your mobile device. It is addictive and to me, fun. Addictive I like how the game isn't a soccer game but a soccer experience. You'll just have to play FIFA Ultimate Team to get the most out of the game. It's not the most realistic experience but has loads of options and a bunch of new features. Definitely worth downloading if you're a fan of soccer games. I've never been that fond of the FIFA franchise and FIFA 10, 11, and 12 on the Vita had so many issues, even with the Vita's controller (
