Forty-seven of the patients were of white European origin and 90 were of non-white (black, Asian or Middle Eastern) origin. During GH therapy the mean (SD) height velocity (HV) increased by 9.6 (1.4) cm/year in white children and 7.2 (1.2) cm/year in non-white children. Startup Fail Fast - AlexC04 ===== Ixias This is a good piece of advice, especially for bootstrapping start-ups, not because it states the obvious (how can it be obvious?) but because it tells me to get on with my idea without being bogged down by a bunch of static I'll never use. The real world isn't like the movies, it isn't like the books. It isn't like the Youtube youtube's I've watched (seriously). These books/movies/ tv shows are designed to get your attention and all of those static is _how you'll get there_. You can't _just_ shoot for the moon; you need to launch. Go for the hills and then worry about landing. It's called _learning_. Thanks for this; it is directly applicable to me (and I thought I was done with applying). --- AlexC04 Hey, I didn't mean to sound preachy, I was just sharing something I found that I've been learning over the last year. That's all. It was in the context of here in the startup world that it came up. ----- ram1024 I'm not going to name your partner, but I'm really very sorry about this, not because of your startup and your profitability proposition, but because your partner must have been a pretty great person. I've been reading that this is the line that throws up problems: {action => "update", :id => @event.homepage} do |f| %> I'm getting an error:
