■ The Agrarian Frontier of Past Ages In the Ages past, magic was abundant, as it was not yet under the control of the crown. People lived in a peaceful and fertile age, and formed a society made up of the monocultures of the Flemish lands. However, when the night of the eclipse fell upon the lands, the power of evil rose, which laid waste to the lands of the Flemish people. However, Acere, who had carried out the orders of the Elden King and had protected the Lands Between, felt that he could not say enough to all of the people who had lost hope. Instead, he took the Lands Between by storm, and set up the borders with an iron fist. For a long time, Acere ruled the Lands Between that he had established with an iron fist. However, he could not endure alone the burden of ruling a vast country,
